City Council Passes Eviction Moratorium

In the wake of Covid-19 many residents are at risk of eviction due to the loss of employment or a decrease in work hours. The Office of Governor Gavin Newsom released a statement on March 27, 2020 in response stating:

“Governor Gavin Newsom today issued an executive order banning the enforcement of eviction orders for renters affected by COVID-19 through May 31, 2020. The order prohibits landlords from evicting tenants for nonpayment of rent and prohibits enforcement of evictions by law enforcement or courts. It also requires tenants to declare in writing, no more than seven days after the rent comes due, that the tenant cannot pay all or part of their rent due to COVID-19.

The tenant would be required to retain documentation but not required to submit it to the landlord in advance. And the tenant would remain obligated to repay full rent in a timely manner and could still face eviction after the enforcement moratorium is lifted. The order takes effect immediately, and provides immediate relief to tenants for whom rent is due on April 1st.”

The Fullerton City Council voted 4-1 to pass an eviction moratorium ordinance in response to the pandemic emergency related to the spread of COVID-19. The moratorium includes both residential and commercial tenants with a 180-day deferral period.

The City has also provided a checklist and sample letter to assist tenants in complying with the moratorium ordinance requirements. A FAQ sheet, checklist and sample letter will also be available in Korean and Spanish. The above resources can be found at cityoffullerton.com.
